VOLUME 9, FIFTH EDITION March 19th, 1958

END OF SOCIETY YEAR

Our Executive has planned to wind up the year in a very fitting manner. A Communion Breakfast will be held on March 30th, Palm Sunday at 9:00 o'clock in the Sodality Chapel. The Mass will be said by Rev. Father MacGuigan, Everyone will then proceed to the College Dining room and breakfast. Rev. Father Stanford has kindly consented to address us. No doubt this well informed man will exhort us to right our keels and sail toward the true horizon.

The charge of $0.60 will be to meet the costs of the breakfast. Your attendance at this event will indicate that interest is strong to the end and that an active year is at hand.

Furthermore, the accompanying graces will be very welcome during exam time.

TONIGHT'S SMOKER

The Commerce Society, still active even at this late date, will hold a social gathering in the C.O.T.C. mess on the evening of Wednesday the 19th at 7:45 p.m. Chairman Paul Cugno, has succeeded in securing Mr. H. John Lush, Director of Public Relations of the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges, as guest speaker. In his role as Chairman Paul has arranged a well rounded event. There will be a movie in addition to the serving of refreshments. Fellows, here is a chance to get together with one another as well as to chat informally with the professors. It will be an opportunity for a "brief" respite from your studies at no charge to yourselves.

Continue to help the Society to help you. We hope to see you there!

QUEBEC CONFERENCE

This year it is hoped that a precedent will have been set for the Commercemen of future years to follow. On March 21st, 22nd, and 23th there will be a General Meeting of Quebec Province Commerce Students under the auspices of the Commerce Society of Laval University, at Quebec. The meeting will be centered mainly around discussions dealing with the results of two surveys taken among students adn businessmen respectively. You have already seen the former. The latter is a survey among employers hiring graduates from the Province's schools ofCommerce on their performance on the job. All the questions are of a general nature and the accumulated responses should furnish much matter for debate. After the results of these surveys have been discussed, there will be suggestions toward synthesizing the activities and aims of Commercemen for the improved wellfare of all.

There will be seven Loyola representatives at the meeting. The Faculty will be represented by our Moderator, Mr. Lawrence Bessner B.Com, C.A., and Rev. Father Moylan whom you all know. The five student delegates will be Ben Roberge, Joe DiGiovanni, Chuck Murphy, John Ganly and Tony Haberl.

You may rest assured that your best interests will be their chief concern and that you will receive a full report of what has transpired and what, in the opinion of your delegates, has been achieved.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

with Bob Boone

Intra-Mural Sports have finally drawn to a close and a most successful year it was. Congratulations go to I.A.C. president Don Sauvé for doing such a fine job. Commerce classes were involved in both the basketball and hockey finals.

In the semi-finals in basketball Junior Commerce overwhelmed a fine Junior Science 15-9. The win was costly to the victors however as their top-point getter and leading scorer in both divisions, Tom Dawson, was injured. Tom had to be carried from the floor and his playing was f nished for the rest of the year. We learned later that he had suffered a severe ankle sprain and pulled some ligaments in his leg. This injury took place early in the game and Science for a short while sawscenes of a sweet victory. Down in the depths of misery Jr. Commerce battled thier way to the f nals. Their defensive dsiplay wasflawless and the few shots they took were accurate. Leo Harris and Mike Sheehan stood out for the Commerce club but the win was really a team effort. They won it for Tom "The Gipper" Dawson

Sophomore Commerce went undefeated in their division adn met Junior Commerce in the finals. The 2 game total point series was characterized by close defensive play and featured a great many fouls. Sophomore Co merce after losing the first game 17-16 came through in the sec nd game, thanks to a basket by Leo "Wring-way" Harris to win 22-14 and in total points 39-31.

Sophomore lost a great deal of the prestige they had built up in their division when they lost the first game. They were ahead 12-4 at halftime and figured they had the game in the bag. Junior, after a discussion with their coach changed strategy and came rambling back to victory, Leo Harris was the high point man in the game with 7 points. The second game ran along the same lines as the first until the last 5 minutes. With total points even, Ray Brsibois, who had done such a great job guarding Ernesto Vitienes, fouled out. 25 seconds later Mike Sheehan fouled out and Juniors were left with 4 men Ed Siwiec was forced to play and then things really got jumping. Leo Harris pulled off his now famous stunt and the Juniorswere finished.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS (cont'd).

However much credit is due to Sophomore who really diserved their victory. Terry Stafford and Gene Carlin were their best men. Vitienes, thier high-scorer during the year, was held in check by Ray Brisebois. Ernie complained that his shins were bruised, but I can't imagine how.

In intra-mural hockey Sophomore Science met Senior Combines in the finals. The Combines are composed of Senior Arts and Senior Commerce. Sophomore won the first of a 2 game total goal series 2-1 with Malone scoring for the Seniors. The second game was the most exciting of the series and probably of the whole year in intra-mural hockey. The Combines took an early lead of 2-0 but Sophomore scored 2 goals in the last 5 minutes of play to tie the game 2 all and win the series 4-3. Ben Roberge and Don Sauvc were the best of the defencemen for the Combines. They dished out some hard checks along the blueline. Garry Malone and Tom Lane were the Commercemen who stood out up front.

Well that's all for this issue of the "WORKSHEET" and remember "always play the game as a good sport would".
